1. Heard the learned counsel for the parties.

2. This writ petition is directed against the order, which is an inter-locutory in character. That being so, I am not inclined to interfere with the same and interest of justice would be met if the petitioner is given liberty to challenge the same in further proceedings after disposal of Regular Civil Appeal No.77 of 2004. Mr Borkar, learned counsel for the respondents, has no objection for granting such liberty. The writ petition is disposed of, with liberty to the petitioner to challenge the impugned order in further proceedings as aforestated, The writ ptition is disposed of.
